Pretty well done Stepmania/Osu! -like rhytm game with amazing chiptune music (and great UX/graphics to go along with it). Right now the major downside is a lack of an editor/composer for custom tracks, as the "standard" library is pretty limited, and I'm pretty sure the community would do wonders in this regard. Some other minor nitpicks I noticed: The game doesn't remember the last song played when returning back to the song picker, and jumps back at the beginning of the list. This is not a big deal right now, but might become one when the library grows. The loading time of the song library is a little bit longer than I'd expect, which might, again, cause issues when/if the library grows.
